SCHOOL OF LAW CAREER SERVICES

"Regent Law offers an unparalleled combination of exemplary bar passage and placement outcomes, top-rate faculty and course selection, and high levels of satisfaction. You will be equipped to excel as a lawyer regardless of where you go after graduation."

MARK MARTIN, J.D., LL.M.
Dean & Professor, School of Law
Former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina

Resources for Students & Future Employers

Regent Law Career Services prepares and places practice-ready, purpose-driven interns and legal professionals. Our required Foundations of Practice course introduces first-year law students to the ethical decision-making framework of being a principled lawyer. Students also explore the best path to pursue their professional calling. By partnering with law offices, corporations, and government entities, we connect exceptional candidates with attorneys and judges for meaningful internships, clerkships, and employment after graduation.

FOR STUDENTS, BENEFITS INCLUDE:

- Judge Advocate General's Corps placement, both for interns and post-graduate commissioned officers
- Judicial Clerkship programs throughout the year involving all levels of the court system
- Panel discussions with attorneys and judges
- Professional development workshops
- Individualized career counseling
- On-campus and videoconference networking with employers
- Career-planning guides that map out goals for each year of law school
- An extensive library of law career placement materials

FOR EMPLOYERS, WE OFFER:

- On-Campus Interviewing: We can coordinate and customize on-campus interviews.
- Resume Collection Service: We solicit qualified applicants, screen and collect resumes, and forward applications to prospective employers.
- Videoconferencing: State-of-the-art videoconferencing/remote interviewing is available.
- Free Job Postings: Employers may forward volunteer or paid positions to us at lawcareerservices@regent.edu or post them on Pathfinder, our Symplicity-based job search engine at regent.edu/pathfinder.
